WHAT IT SOLVES

Built for spending the day on calls

Control on the cable
Volume, microphone mute and speaker mute, without hunting for the control on screen.

40 mm drivers
Large speakers for this format, with 32 ohm impedance and a 20 Hz to 20 kHz response.

Flexible boom microphone
It bends and sits at mouth height, which is where it picks up best and most evenly.

USB plug and play
A single USB-A connector: nothing to install and no need to find two 3.5 mm inputs on the PC.

The microphone's 100 Hz to 10 kHz: the microphone does not cover the whole audible range, and that is deliberate: the human voice lives between those frequencies. Leaving out the very low bass and the highest treble filters out much of the background noise — fans, air conditioning, keyboards— and the voice reaches the call cleaner.

WHERE IT DELIVERS

Built for the workstation that lives on the phone

CALL CENTRE

Mute without reaching for the mouse

The in-line control cuts the microphone instantly, which is what gets used most at a phone support desk.
